City To Get Answer On K. of P. Convention Bid

A definite decision on whether the state convention of the Knights of Pythias will be held in Marion next September was expected today as a local delegation conferred with grand lodge officers in Lima

Negotiations for this convention progressed as Marion said farewell to the United Commercial Travelers convention visitors and prepared to welcome the Druids and Red Men conventions Sunday and next week

Heading the local delegation from Marion was Charles A Klunk chairman of the conventions tour ist and publicity committee of the Chamber of Commerce accompanied by a group of local Pythian lodgemen

The conference of the grand lodge officers in Lima was called to decide where the 1932 session will be held Arrangements previously were made for the convention to be held in Lancaster but that city has abandoned its plans to entertain the convention local lodgemen said

Marion recently invited the grand lodge to hold the session here and this city since has been regarded as a likely meeting place Mr Klunk said

The convention is scheduled for the last week in September It would bring between 1 500 and 2 000 visitors here

OTHER ISSUES OBSCURED BY DRY QUESTION

Prohibition Rumpus Holds Center of Political Stage in Chicago.

BOTH SIDES PLAN FIGHT

However, Delegates See Struggle Centering on Degree of Wetness.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO June 11—The dust of the prohibition rumpus continued to settle down upon the convention city today obscuring virtually all else

In the face of the march upon the Republican national convention of the organized wets demanding repeal and of drys who oppose it the questions of who will be the next chairman of the national committee and whether there will be any definite move to replace Vice President Curtis as a running mate for President Hoover were relegated to the side lines

In the minds of arriving delegates who discussed the prohibition plank the Republicans will adopt next week the primary interest seemed to be the degree of wetness

Demonstrations On

The organized wets and drys carried their dispute from the statement stage into a series of demonstrations with the former laying plans for a two day demonstration to begin tomorrow and the latter beginning a series of meetings described by F Scott McBride general superintendent of the Anti Saloon league as a call to arms

The wet demonstration was arranged under the auspices of the Crusaders and the Republican Citizens Committee Against Prohibition

The dry rally was opened under the auspices of the Anti Saloon league

A statement came today from Mrs Ida B Wise Smith vice president of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union saying the drive to repeal or modify the eighteenth amendment is the pathway to putrid politics

Curtan said there is an open revolt against prohibition throughout the country and it is the

UNUSUAL EXTORTION ATTEMPT IS FAILURE

Plane Drops Empty Suitcase at Designated Mountain Spot in Pa , Police Comb Area.

By The Associated Press

BLOOMSBURG Pa June 11—A novel extortion plot involving the use of an airplane was revealed today as police combed the woods of a lonely mountain for one or more persons they said tried to get $15000 from Harry Magee wealthy carpet manufacturer

Following instructions in a note signed X X X Magee piloted a chartered plane over a designated spot on Harlock mountain Thursday and dropped an empty suit case purporting to contain the money Secluded police watching him raced for the spot The suit case had disappeared

Police said the first of six letters demanding the money on threat of bodily harm to Magee and his family was received April 19 Some of them were printed others written and all bore the same signature Magee and his wife have two children Joan 8 and James 4

The extortionists gave instructions to their intended victim to charter a plane and follow a route along the Susquehanna river He was told to watch out for a large sheet marked with three black crosses and drop the suit case with the money near it

On his first flight Magee told police he failed to spot the sheet and two days later received notes saying there had been too much activity for the plans to be carried out

Sheriff Rabb accompanied him on a second unsuccessful flight May 13

The final note was received Thursday night and all available state policemen together with state foresters stationed themselves about the mountain to watch for the pre-arranged signal When they reached the indicated spot they found the sheet but the suit case had disappeared

Four of the letters Magee received were postmarked Nanticoke Pa, one Sunbury and the final one Wilkesbarre.

FOUR MEN ARRESTED IN DEATH OF NEGRO

Battered Body of Man Taken from Ironton O Jail Found in River

IRONTON O June 11 Four white men were arrested for questioning today after finding the body of Luke Marion 25 Atlanta Ga negro in the Ohio river apparently the victim of a mob which took him from the South Point O jail Tuesday night where he was held for threatening two white men with a knife

The negro's body was badly battered and had started to decompose when found in the river Lawrence county officials said they expected to arrest 12 other white men for investigation in the case

Those held today were Theodore Johnson Taylor Napier Garland Massie and Milford Massie the latter two brothers all of South Point.

Marion was locked up Tuesday after he was alleged to have threatened Ben Hall white and another white man with a knife during an argument on a downtown street

A mob battered down the jail door Tuesday night and carried him into the country Officials said they thought at the time the mob had only frightened the negro out of the village

Marion came to South Point last week as chauffeur for Howard Davidson of Atlanta, who came north to settle a family estate

Hall was held in jail as a witness against Marion at the time the mob took the negro from the prison.

PRE-SUICIDE STORY OF MORROW MAID DENIED BY BRINKERT

Ex Convict Held in Alpine, N. J., While Police Check Story That He Was in Bridgeport, Conn., Night of Lindbergh Kidnaping

NOT WITH MISS SHARPE, HE DECLARES

"Jafsie" Unable To Identify Brinkert as Man Who Received $50,000 Ransom Payment; Sister of Violet Sharpe Questioned.

By The Associated Press

ALPINE N J, June 11—Ernest Brinkert ex convict arrested in the Lindbergh case, told his story to state police today and immediately thereafter officers drove rapidly away for an unannounced destination

Arrested in New Rochelle N Y last night after the suicide of Violet Sharpe waitress in the Englewood, N J, home of Mrs Dwight W Morrow grandmother of the murdered Lindbergh baby Brinkert came here voluntarily early today, without waiting for extradition

He flatly denied an ante mortem statement by Miss Sharpe that she had spent the evening of March 1 the night the baby was stolen with him

On the contrary he insisted he and his wife spent both that night and the night following at a very nice home owned by a Negro in Bridgeport Conn

Soon after this alibi was told Public Inspector Harry Walsh of the Jersey City police who has charge of the Brinkert examination left the state police station in an automobile with a trooper and a civilian unidentified

It was determined that this man was not the prisoner and it was learned that Brinkert would be held at Alpine at least until his alibi was checked Presumably he gave police the name of the Bridgeport Negro but this information was not made public

Not Recognized by Jafsie

Dr Condon the aged lecturer who under the name of Jafsie delivered in a Bronx cemetery $50 000 ransom money to a man supposed to represent the kidnapers was unable to identify Brinkert as the one who received the payment

The body of Miss Sharpe in whom Mrs Morrow expressed her faith even after the suicide lay today in an Englewood undertaking establishment A partial autopsy report disclosed the servant girl had not been suffering from any ailment had not been pregnant and that there was no physical cause discoverable to explain her act

The day before she died she had identified a picture of Brinkert as that of a man who had called on her at the Morrow home on the afternoon of March 1 and whom she told that the Lindberghs had decided to stay another day at

POLICE HEAR GIRL'S DENIAL

Sister of Violet Sharpe Disclaims Knowledge of Lindy Case in England.

By The Associated Press

BEAUMANOR, Eng June 11—Edna Sharpe whose sister Violet committed suicide in the Morrow home at Englewood, N J denied today that she knew anything about the kidnaping of the Lindbergh baby

I know nothing whatever about the kidnaping she said as she left here for her parents home in Bramham What is more I'm quite sure my sister Violet knew nothing about it either

Ever since that baby disappeared she was badgered and questioned by the police until she didn't know what she was saying or doing

Once Worked Near Morrows

I used to work for Mrs Macdow in Englewood not far from where the Morrows live but I left them to take a situation in New York four months before the kidnaping

After the baby was stolen Violet wrote to me and I went to Englewood to see her She was terribly upset The police had been questioning her for hours

She told me that on the night the child was kidnaped she went out with two men whose names she didn't know They went for an automobile ride and she said she hadn't seen them since

She swore to me that she knew nothing about the child's disappearance but she said the police wouldn't believe her because she had admitted that she had gone out with two boys she didn't know that night

I came to England for a vacation soon after the kidnaping I left New York on the Aquitania on April 8 intending to return in August

Defends Sister

It's all so cruel Violet would never have done anything to that child or helped any one who wanted to harm it

The police never let her alone They questioned her for hours They drove her crazy She knew nothing but they'll never believe what you tell them over there

Edna said she had not spoken to the police in England about the case She has been here visiting her brother in law who is employed by Viscount Cobham at Hagley hall

Waitress Carries Out Death Threat

By the Associated Press

ENGLEWOOD N J June 11

They'll never take me from this house again They'll never question me again

This hysterical exclamation was attributed to Violet Sharpe youthful waitress by fellow servants who talked with her several hours before her suicide in the home of Mrs Dwight W Morrow yesterday

The English girl was questioned four times before she finally identified a picture of Ernest Brinkert 29-year old cab driver with a criminal record as the man with whom she went riding mysteriously on the night the son of Col Charles A Lindbergh was kidnaped.

Illness Halts Questioning

The girl was suffering from an illness which abruptly halted the questioning by Inspector Harry Walsh of Jersey City and other police last Thursday night.

She was in her room on the sec

STOLEN LADDER MAY BE KIDNAPING CLUE

Former Employer of Brinkert Reveals Theft in Talk with Police

By the Associated Press

MAMARONECK N Y June 11—Captain Edward Decker of the Mamaroneck town police this afternoon said that Claude W Moody real estate man of Heathcote declared he suspects the ladder used to enter Charles A Lindbergh Jr's nursery window on March 1 was stolen from the Moody grounds

Ernest Brinkert listed suspect in the kidnaping and murder case gave up his job as butler at the Moody home on March 1

Moody told Decker today he last saw his ladder in February It was one used to prune fruit trees It resembled the ladder found on the ground outside the Lindbergh Sourland mountain home in that the rungs were far apart It was wider at the bottom than at the top and it was made of fir

Captain Decker saw a picture of the suspect in a newspaper today and recognized Brinkert as a former butler at the Moody home He went to Moody and showed him the picture

As the two discussed the case comparing clues and coincidences Moody suddenly thought of the ladder He and Captain Decker went to look for it The ladder was missing from its accustomed place and could not be found anywhere

Mamaroneck town police immediately advised New Jersey state police and it was revealed troopers were assigned to come here at once to investigate the latest disclosure

On April 1 the day before Dr John F Condon paid the $50 000 futile ransom money for the return of the Lindbergh baby Brinkert obtained a job as butler in the home of Mrs H D McKay Center avenue, Larchmont

He was accompanied by a woman known as his wife who was engaged to be a houseworker On May 5 the couple left the job.

K.-P's. Boot Kappas from Top Rung With 3-2 Victory

BATTLE BREAKS OUT AS BROOKLYN DOWNS CHICAGO BRUINS, 4-3

Cubs Booted from Top in Torrid Race; Cleveland, Cincinnati Lose.

By The Associated Press

The hot fight in the National league so hot the leadership changes hands almost daily is beginning to wear on the players nerves.

They're becoming quick on the trigger and it becomes apparent the field is so closely matched a single game may decide the eventual flag winner.

But for quick intervention there might have been a free-for-all in the final game of the Chicago-Brooklyn series yesterday at Ebbets field. The tense feeling between the clubs burst bounds when Bill Jurges of the Cubs and Mickey Finn, the Dodgers, started throwing fists after a collision at second base. Members of both sides rushed in and there was a wild mix-up before order was restored between the two combatants, removed from the game.

The Dodgers went on to win 4 to 3 behind Hollis Thurston's steady pitching. The defeat knocked the Cubs off the top and put the winning Boston Braves back at the head of the class.

Ed Brandt, Boston southpaw, broke the Cardinals winning streak when he bested Bill Hallahan in a tight mound duel 2 to 1.

The Giants made it four straight from Cincinnati 4 to 3 as Red Lucas, pitching his twelfth complete game for the Reds, lost on errors by himself and George Grantham.

The Phillies took their final with Pittsburgh 6 to 5.

Alvin Crowder allowed only three hits as the Washington Senators blanked Chicago 10 to 0. Ossie Bluege's home run with two on featured the winners' attack. The Athletics outslugged Cleveland 20 to 7 in 11 innings as Simmons and Cochrane hit homers.

Earle Combs and Joe Sewell, Yankee veterans, connected in the eleventh inning to defeat the Detroit Tigers 8 to 7.

The St. Louis Browns knocked John Michaels from the hill in the seventh inning, scored four runs and nosed out Boston 4 to 3.

SOFTBALL PITCHING PROBLEM UNDECIDED

No Quorum Present as Commission Meets, Three Players Suspended.

Because only six of the 13 members of the city softball commission were present at the called meeting last night no action was taken in the controversy over the recent adoption of a new pitching delivery by various pitchers throughout the city. President N. E. Crissinger ordered a special session for June 20 at which time this question will be decided. Members present last night were President Crissinger, R. G. Smallwood, Judge William R. Martin, W. R. (Bill) Martin, William Fabian and Lee Keller.

No official action was taken on any question by the commission because of the lack of a quorum.

As a result of disorders at the Huber-Erie Mechanics Industrial league game on Thursday three players allegedly involved were ordered suspended last night by Crissinger. The three, one from the Huber team and two from the Erie, are barred from participation in organized city competition until the commission considers their case at the June 20 meeting.

Whitcum Gets Credit.

When the Epworth Seniors played Wesley M. E. on Wednesday of this week Bryant Corwin was given the credit for having pitched a two hit game against the Wesley team, the Seniors winning 12-0. Checking the scorebook reveals that Maurs Whitcum did the twirling for the Seniors instead of Corwin. Whitcum gave only two hits in his first start in the No. 2 league. Thus another kid rookie comes to the fore. Edson Stanley, Seniors manager, is enthusiastic about Whitcum's future and requests the correction so he will get his due credit.

PROSPECT SWAMPED BY MASONIC LODGE

Firemen Beaten 15-0; Serv-U-Wel and Erie Traffic Clubs in Easy Wins.

BY BOB KIRKPATRICK
Sports Editor, The Star

It begins to look very much like some of the old standbys in the Commercial league are slipping and that new teams are rising to take the place of the former league leaders. The Kappas and Prospect, the former league champions for the last two years and the latter always a contender, are showing signs of sliding from the top this season in the face of determined opposition. Yesterday the Kappas lost the league lead by dropping a 3-2 battle to the aspiring Kay Pees and Prospect was smothered under an avalanche of runs by the Masons, the game finally ending 15-0. In other games yesterday the Erie Traffic club handed St. Paul's Episcopal its fifth straight setback 10-2 and Serv-U-Wel walked on the Presbyterian A. C. to the tune of a 14-0 score.

The Kappas and Kay Pees put on a seven inning scrap that eclipsed anything any of the other games yesterday had to offer. Dale Schwaderer hurled the victory for the winners and did a good job of it. Schwaderer gave up six hits but in only one frame did the Kappas get more than one hit. Roscoe Hook started for the Kappas but was replaced by Souder when the Kay Pees threatened to go on a scoring spree in the fifth inning.

Kay Pees Score First

The Kay Pees drew first blood in the first inning by scoring one run as the result of some loose Kappa play. Neither team scored again until the fifth when the Kappas forced one run across to knot the score.

The Kay Pees gave the Kappas a little demonstration in bunting in the fifth frame, the first two men up laying down bunts that paved the way for a pair of tallies. These two hits, coupled with an error, sent two Kay Pee runs across the plate and provided what proved to be the winning margin. John Gillis put the Kappas back in the running in the sixth with a home run wallop over left field but after that Schwaderer set the losers down in good style.

The Masonic lodge clubbed Dutch Lauer from the box in the second inning and racked up a 15-0 victory over Prospect to move back into a tie for second place in the standings. Lauer was shelled for seven runs in the second frame before he was replaced by Baumgardner who fared little better than his predecessor. Jack Ling hurled the Masons to the one-sided win, giving the Prospect boys five hits. Ling was wild at times but after he had placed men on the sacks he turned on the steam and set them down in rapid fire order.

St. Paul Loses

St. Paul's Episcopal absorbed another beating this time from the Erie Traffic club by a 10-2 score. The Erie batters raked Knappenberger and Cheney for a total of 12 safeties in the seven innings, two of them three baggers. Don Shoemaker gave up just two hits, both of them triples. Cheney and Bush both drove out three baggers. Cheney scored both the Episcopalians runs.

The Serv-U-Wel had little difficulty in running up the 14-0 score on the Presbyterian A. C. Johnny Vestal struck out 13 Presbyterian batters and gave only one hit in the seven frames. Dick Morgan spoiled his chances of entering the no-hit hall of fame by slapping out a single in the fourth inning. The Grocers banged out 16 safeties off the offerings of Bader and Custurer. Carol Carls poled a home run to aid the Serv-U-Wel cause.

CLEVELAND, O., June 11—Joe Boley and Jack Russell, two veteran campaigners, were today members of the Cleveland Indians.

Russell, right-handed hurler and a consistent performer, came from Boston Red Sox in an even trade for Pete Jablonowski. Boley, a free agent, was signed after a workout in which he demonstrated he still was good enough to help the Tribe's uncertain infield work.

AMERICANS RETAIN WIGHTMAN TROPHY

By The Associated Press

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 11—The United States successfully defended the Wightman cup, women's international tennis trophy, today as Helen Wills Moody, the American champion, defeated Dorothy Round of Great Britain. It was the fourth straight victory and clinched the series.

Mrs. Moody was victorious over Miss Round by scores of 6-2, 6-3.

The American team had captured all three matches yesterday.

Foxx, Paul Waner Cling to Big League Batting Leads

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 11—Jimmie Foxx, leader of the major league batting lists throughout most of the season, still holds the American league lead at [illegible].

Jimmie however had to yield the major league lead to Paul Waner of the Pirates after yesterday's games when his average had fallen off to .387, thirty points below the level of a week ago, while the other Waner held his loss to one point and had a mark of .400.

Other American leaguers also suffered big losses.

Earle Combs of the Yankees gained second place at .355, although he improved his mark by only two points. Then came Walker of Detroit .341, Dickey of New York .341, Sewell of New York .33[illegible], [illegible] of St. Louis .328, Lazzeri of New York .32[illegible], Porter and Averill of Cleveland .317, Gehringer of Detroit .314 and Simmons of Philadelphia .310.

Behind Paul Waner in the National league list were Lombardi of Cincinnati .378, Hurst of Philadelphia .367, Hafey of Cincinnati .359, Klein of Philadelphia .355, Ott of New York .345, Stephenson of Chicago .333, Terry of New York .32[illegible], Whitney of Philadelphia .327, O'Doul of Brooklyn .322 and L. Waner of Pittsburgh .322.

The American league gained a considerable edge in the inter-league pitching argument this week when Lefty Gomez and Lefty Grove chalked up their eleventh victories of the season to one defeat for Gomez and three for Grove. The elder circuit however still boasts an undefeated hurler, Huck Betts of the Braves, who has won six straight games.

FAST SOFTBALL TEAMS HERE SUNDAY

MARION, MANSFIELD, COLUMBUS TO CLASH IN 3-GAME TOURNEY

Lincoln Park Games Called for 1:30 P. M.; Classy Competition Certain.

Softball fans have been doing considerable talking lately about the dazzling brand of play which has been exhibited at Lincoln park the last two Sundays in the one-day four-team tournaments being presented at the North side field this summer. The Jenner Lunch nine of Marion won the first meet and the Yuncker Sports of Mansfield copped the crown last Sunday. This Sunday four more teams, three from out of town, will invade Lincoln park for the third set of games. The first game will start at 1:30 p. m. and the three will be run off as rapidly as possible.

The three teams which will compete here this week promise to put on just as dazzling a brand of play as has been the rule in previous programs. The Mansfield Westinghouse, Columbus Mendel Tailors, Alpha Epsilon Pi of Ohio State university and Ohio Fuel Gas company of Marion will be the four contestants. All of the teams possess brilliant records for the season to date.

Tailors Are Strong

The Mendel Tailors will bring a crack fielding team here headed by Captain Clarence Dolby, a first baseman who last season handled more than 200 chances in Columbus competition without an error. As usual the Capital city outfit will have a star twirler in the lineup to thwart the opposition. F. Dodson, who already has one no-hit game to his credit this year, is expected to be on the firing line. Dodson is another of those boys who takes pleasure in flipping the third strike by the batters. He has an average of 12 strikeouts a game this season.

The Alpha Epsilon Pi team has been intramural champ of Ohio State so long the university is thinking of playing in the future for the second place title as there seems no way to oust the titlists. Mike Kowal, who was slated to pitch here last week, is billed as the starting hurler for the Greek letter lads. Kowal is rated the best pitcher in Ohio State university circles and has also been starring in city league competition. He boasts a sizzling fast ball. Leo Levine, who pitched here last Sunday for Miles Drugs, is being brought along as understudy to Kowal.

Gasco for Marion

The Gasco club of Marion, one of the best local clubs, will represent the City of Prestige in the tourney. Manager Ray Anthony is making a few additions to his already strong lineup and promises to put up a stiff fight against the invaders. Eddie Mautz, Tony Lesley and Shorty Richards comprise the mound corps but another man may be added before game time. The Gasco infield is one of the best in the city and the entire team rates with the strongest.

The Westinghouse lineup is not available but the team is now lodged in second place in the Mansfield Industrial league and is rated practically on the par with the Yuncker Sports who played here last week.

The schedule calls for the Gasco club to meet the Mendel Tailors in the first game at 1:30 and the Westinghouse to tackle the Alpha Epsilon Pi in the second game with the winners to meet in the finale.

SHOVEL WILL PLAY AT TIFFIN SUNDAY

The Marion Steam Shovel A. A. baseball team will try for its second victory of the season Sunday against the American Restaurants of Tiffin at Tiffin. Manager Doggie Drumm will use practically the same team as has won one and lost one game with the exception of on the mound. Drumm has signed a big right hander by the name of Canuckle to do the flinging. Kanuckle twirled for Springfield and Wheeling last season, the former playing in the Central league.

The Shovel will play three straight home games after this week.

All-Stars Win.

The Marion All Stars won their sixth game of the season yesterday from Agosta by a 12-2 score. Finley pitched a five hit game for the winners. The All Stars will play Camp in a return game Monday at the Central Junior diamond.

Batteries and score by innings:

All Stars 024 510 0— 12 15 2
Agosta 000 001 1— 2 [illegible] 3

All Stars: Finley and [illegible]. Agosta: Kennell and Grace.

OHIO STATE FAVORED TO TAKE NATIONAL TRACK CHAMPIONSHIP

Buckeyes Qualify Four Men in Meet, Contestants Eye Olympic Posts

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 11—Ohio State, the last neighborhood school to win the national collegiate athletic association track championship before Southern California dominated the field, was a long favorite to rewin it today at Stagg field.

The Buckeyes, with Jack Simpson and Dick Rockaway carrying the burden, won the title in 1929. Southern California's Trojans took it in 1930 and 1931 but did not come back this year to defend it.

Ohio State's hopes rested in another sprinter and hurdler combination—Don Bennett and Jack Keller, along with a qualifier each in the javelin and quarter mile, plus John Wonsowicz in the pole vault and John Black, who also qualified in the high hurdles.

Bennett was given an even chance of beating Ralph Metcalfe, the Negro flyer from Marquette, in the century, but the latter appeared to be a standout in the 220 yard dash. Keller also faced a tough afternoon with George Saling of Iowa as the troublemaker. Keller won his heat in the lows yesterday but finished an easy second to Charles Scheifley of Minnesota in the highs.

Bennett won his heat in the furlong but was beaten by another Negro, Jim Johnson of Illinois State Normal, in the 100-yard dash.

Two of the ineligible group (not eligible for points but qualified to try for the Olympic finals at Palo Alto, Calif., next month) won trials in impressive style. Dwight Purvis, a freshman at Purdue, fired the javelin 204 feet 4½ inches to lead the qualifiers and E. Gray of Abilene Christian, Texas, raced his heat in the half mile in 1:53.2 to clip three-tenths of a second from the meet record. The mark will not stand however.

DOUBLE BILLS ON SUNDAY SCHEDULE

After having been booted from first to fourth position in the standing last Sunday by an unexpected defeat, Morral of the Heart of Ohio baseball league will attempt to start another upward climb Sunday when it tackles Ashley in a double header at Morral. Hyatts, which slipped into first place by taking a twin bill from Ashley, will make another double stand this week against Pleasant at Hyatts. One single game is on the books, Delaware being carded for a clash with Caledonia on the latter's diamond.

The two double headers will get under way at 1:30 p. m., while the single game at Caledonia will start at 2:30.

The league standings:

Team	W	L	Pct
Hyatts	4	1	800
Delaware	4	2	667
Caledonia	4	2	667
Morral	3	2	600
Ashley	0	4	000
Pleasant	0	4	000

[illegible] this [illegible] put a damper on [illegible] enthusiasm engendered [illegible] of shorts in Auburn. [illegible] were that [illegible] might have its [illegible] the year next week. [illegible] quarters were still en[illegible] expectations of an ad[illegible] Congress next week, lifting legislative uncertainties.

Nevertheless, the presence of the bonus army in Washington has led to definite uneasiness, although there is no expectation that the $2,000,000,000 bonus bill will be enacted.

American Tobacco "B," and Case converted early gains of 2 points into net losses of like extent. Allied Chemical and American Telephone advanced about 3 points, then reacted to close fractionally under yesterday's final levels. U. S. Steel and New York Central closed unchanged, after advancing more than a point. Eastman and Santa Fe converted gains of 1½ into losses of 1 point. American Can finished ½, after registering a temporary gain of 2. Coca-Cola finished more than a point higher, after advancing more than 3. Norfolk & Western closed up 2½, net, after selling somewhat higher. Auburn at the top was 76, in contrast to its recent low of 28¾. It closed unchanged at 66⅝.

CANDIDATE TO TOUR COUNTY BY BICYCLE

By The Associated Press

ARKANSAS CITY, Kan. — A bicycle will be the only means of conveyance for John Gamble when he tours the country campaigning for election as Cowley county probate judge. Gamble made an agreement with a friend that he would ride the bicycle or walk from sunup to sundown while campaigning. From sundown to sunup he may ride in an automobile if it is driven by someone else.

Dwindling of Demand in Late Dealing Wipes Out Advances.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 11—Dwindling of demand in the late dealings gave the wheat market a reactionary trend today in the final hour, and virtually wiped out earlier gains.

Trade in wheat was largely of a professional character, and to a noticeable degree took its cue from fluctuations of securities. Crop comments from the spring wheat belt were generally favorable, and some Kansas reports suggested that the winter wheat yield in parts of the state might prove above expectations. No important overseas business in United States wheat was announced.

Wheat closed irregular, ¼ off to ¼ up compared with yesterday's finish, corn at a shade decline to ⅜ advance, oats ⅛@¼ higher, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 7 cents.

THREE JOCKEYS IN BAINBRIDGE SPILL

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., June 11 — Three jockeys were hurt in the third pile-up of the season at the Bainbridge race track yesterday. The riders escaped with slight injuries, but one horse had to be destroyed.

The accident occurred when Merry Queen, with Robert Clemmons up, stumbled. Es, ridden by Joe Sylvester, and Micara, with Melvin Wimmer up, crashed into the fallen horse. Es broke a leg and had to be destroyed.

Fees Total $251.35.

Fees collected in the office of Sheriff C. C. Fye during May amounted to $251.35, his records show. Fees of this office during May a year ago totalled $226.83.

The record for being the foggiest place in the United States is held by a point on the Maine coast, which has recorded 2734 hours of fog in a single year.

WIN AT CO-ED SHOW

Competing against a big field, Miss Elaine Hunt (above) of Collingswood, N. J., carried off the blue ribbon at the Co-ed horse show staged in Philadelphia. Equestriennes from the University of Pennsylvania, Temple university and other schools and colleges displayed their riding ability.

RED BIRDS RACK UP SIXTH STRAIGHT WIN

Columbus Blasts Three Brewer Hurlers To Cop 8-5 Decision.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 11—Columbus continues to make things unpleasant for the favorites in the American Association race.

The Red Birds were ranked somewhere behind Indianapolis and Minneapolis in the pre-season guessing and they were behind today, but only by percentage points as far as the Indians were concerned. Minneapolis was still three and a half games away. Columbus and Indianapolis were virtually tied for second place.

Columbus yesterday won its sixth straight in defeating Milwaukee, 8 to 5, to sweep the Brewers series. Fred Stiely, Garland Braxton and Ash Hillin failed to fool the Red Birds who collected 19 hits.

A double by Art Weis which scored Mel Simon from first base, wrecked a dandy pitching duel between Joe Deberry and Rosy Ryan, to give Louisville, a 3 to 2, victory over Minneapolis in ten innings.

Indianapolis lost a chance to retain its edge over Columbus and take up ground on the Millers by losing another night game to St. Paul, 3 to 2.

Kansas City put 20 hits together for a 20 to 7 triumph over Toledo, breaking the Mud Hens' winning streak after six in a row.

Britons Seek Consolation for Sarazen Victory in Open Tourney.

By The Associated Press

SANDWICH, Eng., June 11—Britons looking for consolation for Gene Sarazen's record smashing victory in the British open golf championship reflected today that they had picked the stocky American to win from the start.

Sarazen's winning total of 283 clipped two strokes off the best previous aggregate for the championship. Bobby Jones' 285 at St. Andrews in 1927 hitherto had stood as the best mark. Gene spreadeagled the field in the first three rounds with 70-69-70 and then coasted in to victory by five strokes with a 74 on his final 18 holes.

MacDonald Smith, veteran Scot from Carnoustie played second with a total of 288.

Tommy Armour, defending champion, finished far back.

200 ATHLETES TRY FOR OLYMPIC TEAM

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., June 11—A classy field of 200 athletes gathered today to assail the first hurdle in their way to qualification as members of the American Olympic team.

The competition was the second annual northeastern Ohio track meet of the American Athletic Union championships and most of the contenders were shooting for places in the coming Olympics.

Stella Walsh, the country's "fastest woman," was conceded victories in the three women's events—the 50 and 100 meter dashes and the discus throw.

The most strenuous duels were anticipated in the 100-meter dash and the 1,500-meter run.

BRAZIL NO BAR TO YANKEE NET TEAM

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 11—The United States Davis cup tennis team has conquered its mopping up process in the American zone and now is ready to meet Europe's best for the right to play France for the historic trophy.

Brazil, last obstacle to a European invasion by the United States squad, was definitely pushed out of the way yesterday when Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn trounced Ricardo Pernambuco and Ivo Simone, 6-1, 6-1, 6-2, in doubles.

Two more singles matches remained today but they could not effect the final outcome.

STOLEN TOOLS SEIZED IN RAID

William Ashworth and Clark Miller Held to Grand Jury in Seed Theft.

A blacksmith's forge and other tools stolen a year ago from Jesse Roux near DeCliff were recovered when county authorities yesterday searched the premises of William Ashworth of the Marseilles-Galion road near Morral the officers said today

Ashworth was bound over to the grand jury under $500 bond when he pleaded not guilty and waived examination when arraigned before Municipal Judge William R Martin on a charge of receiving stolen property This charge grew out of the theft of $700 worth of clover seed from Frank Grady in Delaware county more than a year ago

While arresting Ashworth early this week in connection with a charge of receiving the stolen seed a deputy sheriff noticed a forge on the Ashworth farm which corresponded to the description of the one stolen from Roux He later identified the stolen property he said

Officers said Ashworth declared he purchased the forge from Merle Carr now serving a 90-day sentence in jail at Kenton for theft of gasoline Authorities will question Carr

Clark Miller also of near Morral charged with receiving the clover seed stolen from Grady also pleaded not guilty and was bound over to the grand jury under $500 bond yesterday

Affidavits for the arrest of Miller and Ashworth were filed by Roy Riley tenant of the Grady farm

Stocking Their Pantry   Showing Location of Islands   Dr. Karl Ritter and Frau Koerwin

By International News Service

NEW YORK—Though we have all sighed at some time or other for the good old days none of us have ever gone so far as to long for the return of conditions that existed in the Garden of Eden before Eve went on an apple diet

But Dr Karl Ritter who three years ago was a prominent physician in Berlin Germany not only longed for a return to the days of our first parents but is actually living as they lived in an Eden of his own creation

Dr Ritter carved out his Garden of Paradise on Charles Island a lonely little isle in the Galapagos group and there he lives in utter contentment with Frau Dore Koerwin a former patient in Berlin his sole companion

Three years ago this couple sentenced themselves to their strange exile as a scientific social experiment They set out to prove that man could live comfortably and happily without any of the adjuncts of modern civilization which makes life so complicated a matter for some people

Success Reported

And today according to Vincent Astor millionaire sportsman the last man to see the modern Adam and Eve their experiment is a success Astor cruising in Pacific waters in his yacht Nourmahal called on Dr Ritter and Frau Koerwin late in February

He was their first visitor in more than six months but he found them completely self sufficient happy and not the least bit bored by their lonely existence Except for their rather unkempt appearance the experimenters might be just a couple of sightseers

Keeping strictly to the letter of their original resolution to repudiate the machine age, Dr Ritter and his Eve have only one piece of machinery on the island That is a wheel barrow which Dr Ritter fashioned himself from materials at hand This barrow is used for transporting their food bananas and vegetables to the shack where they live

Seeds Are Helpful

Two years ago when Astor called at the island he brought some packages of seeds to the couple These seeds according to Mr Astor have come along splendidly and have considerably varied the diet on the island Eden

The only water on the island comes from a small spring so the lives of Dr Ritter and his companion depend on that little source For should the spring dry up they would die of thirst because the only vessel that calls at the island is an old schooner that makes the trip twice a year from Ecuador This ship brings mail to the island's two inhabitants which is placed in a primitive mail box fashioned from an old pail

Dr Ritter and Frau Koerwin started on their Robinson Crusoe adventure without saying a word to a single one of their friends or acquaintances So far as Berlin knew they had vanished completely Frau Koerwin left her husband and Dr Ritter abandoned the extensive medical practice he had built up

It was not until a year later that the world learned of their strange experiment It was Commander Eugene F McDonald a Chicago sportsman who was cruising in Southern waters in the interest of science who discovered the couple on the island

Dr Ritter had all his teeth extracted before leaving Berlin and had a false set fitted explaining that he did not want to risk toothache so far away from dentists or any means of relief The modern Adam's decision to pass up civilization was based on a hatred of conventions and artificiality of the modern age He had considered the possibilities of his experiment for years but delayed making a definite decision until he found a woman who would share his exile In Frau Koerwin Adam found his Eve

Station No. 3 Firemen Build Park in Spare Time

The answer to the question what does a city fireman do with his spare time is found in the miniature park built by the boys of Station No 3 on East Mark street now one of the show places of the North End of the city The place is an interesting spot to residents and visitors in the vicinity since its completion recently

An old fashioned rail fence trees vines and ferns form the background for the various figures fountain fishpond and bird houses grouped in the small enclosure Decorating the fence is an old grain cradle and a frow both of which are more than 100 years old A flower box set with flowers in vivid shades and equally colorful birds is hung on the rail fence over which is raised a six apartment wren house fashioned of miniature logs and a clap-board shingle roof Two of the apartments are occupied and two families of sparrows were ejected this week as undesirable tenants

Particularly interesting is the brightly colored old Dutch mill which tops a pole at one end of the park Visitors to the place on a day when the wind is blowing are greeted by [illegible] from the funny [illegible] who weave in and out the tiny doors as the mill turns around There are 10 of these figures and 10 others are stationed [illegible] on the miniature balcony Another figure which works only when the wind blows is the old man hoeing his corn

A fountain tops the goldfish bowl which is set in a lily pond and here another figure is busy at work turning on the overflow of water in the goldfish bowl Scattered about the place are wooden figures of [illegible] rabbits birds and a big green frog

The ground for the park has been loaned to the department by Miss Sarah Parker of North State street whose property adjoins the city lot

Party Leaders Silent

While incoming delegates were free to speculate over the platform possibilities party leaders were tight lipped. What platform proposals James Garfield of Ohio the chairman designate of the resolutions committee may be bringing to Chicago from Washington remains to be disclosed but few believe the concensus will be for less than a move for an advisory referendum.

The decision of the Republican national committee to seat the delegations from South Carolina headed by Joseph W Tolbert, from Georgia led by James W Arnold, from Louisiana sponsored by Ernest Lee Jahncke and from Mississippi headed by Perry Howard Negro cleared away the last major detail remaining before the committee.

EX-CONVICT CENTER OF KIDNAP INQUIRY

Arrest Follows Suicide of Waitress Employed at Morrow Home.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 11—The light of law that since March 1 has swept in groping circles for the Lindbergh baby kidnaper killer, turned inquiringly and in sharp focus today upon an ex-convict, Ernest Brinkert.

The sudden suicide yesterday of an English servant girl in the home at Englewood N J of Mrs Dwight W Morrow (the baby's grandmother) and the arrest several hours later in New Rochelle N Y of the Ernie with whom she said she went motoring the night the baby was kidnaped gave the investigation into the crime new impetus.

The girl a waitress at the Morrow home for more than two years was Violet Sharpe 28. She was English born as was Betty Gow the slain baby's nursemaid who was among the first questioned after the kidnaping.

Police had questioned her before. They said she was the only one of the servants at the Morrow home in Englewood and at the home of the Charles A Lindberghs near Hopewell N J where the kidnaping occurred and near where the child's body was buried—who had failed to account satisfactorily for her whereabouts the night of the crime.

Miss Sharpe told them she went out that night with a man and that they had driven several places but until Thursday she had declined to identify him. Then police said she told them the man's name was Ernie and she identified a picture of Brinkert as that of her companion that night.

Collapses as Police Arrive

Police returned yesterday to continue their questioning. Word was sent to the young woman that police were waiting. She started to the room where they were and collapsed. She died almost immediately. She had taken a quick acting poison.

Word went out immediately to arrest Brinkert, 30-year-old taxi cab driver of White Plains, N Y., a man who has served a prison sentence for assault. He was arrested at New Rochelle late last night. After being questioned for many hours he was taken to New Jersey waiving extradition.

When Brinkert signed a waiver of extradition police started with him for New Jersey. They announced he would be taken to Jersey City but after crossing the Hudson from New York City into Fort Lee N J the car in which Brinkert was a prisoner eluded automobiles in which newspaper men were riding and disappeared. It was apparent it had changed its destination. Where the prisoner was held was a police secret early today.

Other circumstances were being given close attention by the New Jersey state police. One was concerned with Edna Sharpe sister of Violet. Edna was with the Morrow servant girl the day before the abduction. She sailed for England four days after Jafsie paid $50,000 of Col Lindbergh's money to the mysterious John in the graveyard rendezvous.

Evidence Not Revealed

New Jersey state police who took part in the questioning of Brinkert said they would seek his indictment but they did not amplify the statement nor did they indicate what evidence aside from the circumstance of the girl's story and her suicide they hold against him.

Dr John F Condon the 72 year old Jafsie of earlier episodes in the Lindbergh case confronted Brinkert at New Rochelle. He said he was not able to identify Brinkert as the John to whom he paid $50,000 ransom in a Bronx cemetery early in April.

A woman who said she was Mary Brinkert the cab driver's wife was questioned. Both she and Brinkert had alibis covering the night the child was kidnaped. Police said the stories did not check. They declined to say what the stories were. Mrs Brinkert was released.

The aged Dr Condon was kept in a room removed from the one in which Brinkert was being interrogated.

There is a difference of several inches in height between the John to whom Jafsie paid the ransom money and Brinkert the latter being shorter than the man Jafsie described.

Mrs Brinkert who was brought to the questioning chamber dressed in a kimono wept much of the time she was under interrogation.

Arrest Comes Speedily

Brinkert's arrest resulted from the prompt response of White Plains police to the general alarm for Brinkert's apprehension which New Jersey police sent out at 6 o'clock last night. A checkup on his acquaintances finally led to an address in Mamaroneck N Y and while detectives were there a phone call came from Brinkert himself. The call was traced to New Rochelle. Brinkert was arrested there shortly before 11 o'clock.

Police said Brinkert had picked up Violet Sharpe the Sunday afternoon before the kidnaping scraping an acquaintance and receiving her phone number at the Morrow home. They were in telephone communication the afternoon of the kidnaping.

There is a New Jersey law which prohibits the waiving of extradition and there was a possibility that police might be keeping Brinkert on the New York side of the Hudson until reaching definite decision as to what course to take.

Police said a bankbook found in Miss Sharpe's room at Englewood showed she had deposits of $1,600, none of which was in large sums.

Lindbergh Present

Col Lindbergh himself who with his wife—the former Anne Morrow—has been living at the Englewood home of his mother-in-law, was present when the girl dropped from the effects of the poison. He was with police a few moments later when they ransacked her room for some clue to the cause of her self murder.

Police said she had identified Brinkert's picture the day before. The police alarm for his arrest however, was not sent out until after her suicide.

Col H. Norman Schwarzkopf head of the New Jersey state police, said last night the girl had been under constant suspicion since she was first interviewed in the early days of the investigation." Her attitude toward questioners he said had been evasive and sometimes pugnacious.

She joined the Morrow serving staff May 12, 1930. Previously she was employed in Canada and before that police were told in London England at the home of the Viscountess Falmont.

Brinkert is described by police as a ne'er-do-well with a police record. He has been seen only infrequently in his usual haunts about White Plains since the night of the kidnaping in the Sourland Hills.

Questioning of Brinkert was surrounded with the same secrecy that has been a characteristic of the entire investigation into the baby murder.

ond floor when Walsh and his men arrived to take her to the state police station for renewed quizzing Mrs Morrow's secretary told the maid to get ready. Blanching she ran to the butler and exclaimed:

"Walsh wants to question me but I won't go."

Then she slipped into the butler's pantry seized a water glass and ran to her room. There she poured poison crystals into water and drained the glass.

She staggered back down the stairs to the butler's pantry collapsed on the floor and died almost immediately without uttering a word. Emily Kempainien another maid found her there a huddled mass of starched linen and ran screaming to summon other servants. Col Lindbergh was one of the first to reach the pantry.

Search Room for Note

Police searched the girl's room for a note throwing light on her act but found none. The can of poison half spilled on the floor was found in a closet.

The body was taken to an Englewood morgue where Dr Raphael Gilliady Bergen county physician performed an autopsy and pronounced the maid a suicide. No plans for disposition of the body were disclosed.

ALIBI IS OFFERED BY KIDNAP SUSPECT

Brinkert Asserts He Was in Connecticut Night of Lindbergh Crime.

Hopewell instead of returning to Englewood.

Statements Conflicting

And she said that she had gone for a drive with him on the evening of March 1. She made conflicting statements as to where they had gone and before police could pin her down on this point she became so nervous and hysterical they had to postpone the questioning. When they returned she killed herself.

Brinkert's alibi statement that he had spent the night of March 1 in Bridgeport takes a major development of the Lindbergh case into Connecticut for the second time. Soon after the baby was kidnaped Henry (Red) Johnson sailor suitor of Betty Gow the baby's nurse was arrested there.

He finally established what police said was a satisfactory alibi but his examination developed the fact that he had entered the country illegally and he was ordered deported. He has never been sent out of the country however and is still held at Ellis Island no explanation having been offered for failure to deport him.

Johnson was arrested because he was driving a green automobile such as was having been seen leaving the Lindbergh estate the night of the kidnaping. Brinkert also drives a green car and was parking it in New Rochelle when he was arrested last night.

Former Butler

In information about Brinkert given out by police he was described as a taxi driver who had a small time police record. It was learned today however that for five months prior to the day of the kidnaping he had been employed as a butler in Mamaroneck, N Y home and quit the job on the day the baby was stolen.

The search in connection with the kidnaping was extended across the Atlantic again today as Scotland Yard was asked to question Edna Sharpe sister of the suicide who sailed for England four days after the Jafsie ransom was paid.

It was also learned in England that Edna Sharpe had booked passage to return to America on the Aquitania next week.

When Violet Sharpe committed suicide Col and Mrs Lindbergh were in the Morrow home preparing for dinner in honor of a girl relative of Mrs Lindbergh. The dinner was cancelled.

About the only major figure in the Lindbergh case not drawn back into the limelight by the suicide of the Morrow waitress and the arrest of Brinkert is John Hughes Curtis of Norfolk confessed hoaxer negotiator for return of the baby who is awaiting trial at Flemington.

Check Records of Immigration Bureau

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 11—Immigration records show that Edna Sharpe sister of the maid who committed suicide in the Morrow home yesterday applied for permission to leave the country the day the Lindbergh baby was stolen.

Records show that she was a quota alien and as such had to have permission to leave this country.

Records show she proposed to sail on March 18 but immigration authorities are rechecking this with port authorities in New York.

The immigration bureau has no record of Edna's sister who killed herself.

The final session did not end until 2 p m lasting more than two hours longer than the scheduled time.

Several hundred persons took part in a colorful parade through the business section at 7:30 last night. The parade preceded the grand ball in The Star auditorium.

The parade formed on Mill street and moved south on Main street in the following order: police and firemen, American Legion colors and colorbearers, grand officers of the U C T, the Eagles band, delegates and visitors, the Odd Fellows band, the Canton delegation of 48 men and women, the Columbus U C T council drum corps.

Line of March

The line of march was south on Main to Center, west on Center to Orchard, south on Orchard to Church, east on Church to Main, north on Main to Center and east on Center to State. Several thousand persons witnessed the parade.

The Canton delegation wore red hats and yellow bands with the name and number of the council. This delegation was in charge of Carl T Barclay junior counselor.

The Bertram D Myers orchestra furnished music for dancing during the grand ball. A majority of the convention visitors including the grand council and auxiliary delegates and officers attended the ball which probably was the outstanding social affair of the convention.

Short vaudeville acts were given at various times during the ball. Among the entertainers were Bill & Bob radio entertainers who assisted the convention officers in handling the crowd by making announcements from their specially equipped automobile. These entertainers spent most of the day in Marion with the U C T delegates. They also entertained the auxiliary with a 30-minute program at the Sawyer sanatorium. Their appearance here was sponsored by the Shell Petroleum corporation.

U. C. T. Auxiliary Installs Officers

An open session during which the newly elected officers were installed marked the close of the business session held by the Ohio State Ladies auxiliary of the U C T this morning in the Elks club.

Music for the session was furnished by the Canton auxiliary glee club. Mrs Lily Reinhart of Cincinnati sang a vocal number. Auxiliaries were represented from Portsmouth, Cincinnati, Butler Pa, Cleveland, Akron, Mansfield, Toledo, Lima, Canton, Cambridge, Chillicothe and Athens. Marion women were guests.

Mrs Olga Mason of Cleveland presided as installing officer with Mrs Carrie Tyler of Akron as the installing marshal. A past president's pin was presented Mrs Mason. During the business session the organization voted their support to the widows and orphans fund established by the council.

Mrs Blanche Watkins of Portsmouth who will preside as president next year named Mrs Pearl Buttle of Canton, Mrs Kennedy of Mansfield and Mrs Minnie Curl of Cincinnati as members of the auditing committee.

AUTO CLUB ASKS CARS FOR RED MEN

A request for automobiles for use of delegates and visitors to the Red Men's convention to be held here on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week has been made by officials of the Marion Automobile club.

Cars will be needed during the entire three days and any person who wishes to offer the use of his car for the accommodation of delegates is asked to call the Marion Auto club on East Center street.

HOOVER REFUSES TO FORM NEW COUNCIL

Sees No Need of Renewing Wartime Defense Board, Despite Citizens' Urging

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 11 — Despite the urging of a notable list of citizens President Hoover has no intention of re-establishing the wartime council of national defense believing it would serve no practical purpose.

He made his attitude emphatic late yesterday by making public his negative reply to a letter suggesting such action. This letter was signed by 88 distinguished civilians and presented at the White House during the afternoon by General Albert L Cox of Raleigh N C chairman of the American Legion's defense committee.

Edsel Ford, August Heckscher, John Hays Hammond, William Green, Commander Stephens of the Legion, Clark Howell the Atlanta publisher and a long list of bankers, railroad executives, industrialists and labor leaders were the signers. Said President Hoover in the reply letter addressed to Cox:

"It is my impression that but few of the gentlemen are familiar with the law bearing on this subject. I am most desirous of receiving from yourself and your able associates suggestions of any specific action that might be taken by government or private agencies which would improve the situation. Although I do not find myself in accord with your immediate proposal of another committee I believe that if the signatories were fully informed as to the present effective organization they would agree with me."

EXPLOSIVE FOUND IN CAMP OF VETS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 11—The intelligence unit of the veterans army of 12,000 seeking bonus payment united with police today in a strict vigilance as a small quantity of dynamite fuses and caps was uncovered in one of the service men's camps.

J B Beck Jr the bonus seekers national secretary confirmed a police report on the discovery of two and a half sticks of dynamite, fuses and six caps at the Anacostia flats receiving camp.

The explosives were concealed in bed ticking in an area occupied but a few hours before by members of the workers' ex-service men's league, a Communist organization. Both the police and the veterans declined to say however whether they linked the discovery with Communist activities in the camp.

THIRD MAN DIES FOR SAME MURDER

Columbus Resident Dies for Slaying Aged Farmer in Robbery

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, June 11—Third to die for the same crime Lacey Adams Columbus Negro sang as he went to his death in the Ohio penitentiary electric chair here last night.

Henry Loudermilk white and Walker Brown Negro were executed last week. Convicted with Adams and three other Negroes for the slaying last December of John Kidney aged Pickaway county farmer. Two of the remaining are serving life sentences, one is yet to die.

Kidney was beaten to death when he went to a well for water for an invalid sister. The woman was bound and gagged on her bed by the robbers who then took Kidney's life savings, $400.

Adams entered the death chamber last night smiling and singing a hymn "Death Is Only a Dream." He continued singing in the chair until the death mask was adjusted.

By placing blocks of balsa wood beneath their machinery owners of a New York factory reduced the vibration of the building.

RED MEN READY TO MEET HERE MONDAY

Between 1,000 and 1,500 Ohio Lodgemen Expected in City for Three Days.

trip and the conferring of the Pocahontas degree in The Star auditorium on the Monday afternoon program.

The reception Monday night will include addresses of welcome by Mayor W C Phillips, Mrs C Paddock and R M Wilhelm. Responses will be given by L J Denning of Sekitan great sachem of the Red Men, Mrs Helen A [illegible] of Cleveland great Pocahontas and J Guy O'Donnell of Cincinnati past great sachem.

Herbert P Stelzer of Philadelphia, great chief of records of the United States will be the principal speaker at the reception. A past great Pocahontas [illegible] will honor the memory of Hattie Whiteside past great Pocahontas of Ohio. Mrs Mae [illegible]field of Columbus will speak. A Cleveland degree team will be on work.

Tuesday's Program

Tuesday will be given over to business sessions of both men and women in The Star auditorium and the Red Men's hall. All sessions will be private excepting the public draping of the charter by the women's order at 8 p m.

There will be a street parade at 7 p m made up of delegates and visiting members. This parade will be headed by the Eagles band. At 9:15 Tuesday there will be a public installation of the great chiefs degree of Pocahontas.

Red Men will install their new officers Wednesday at 2:30 p m and will select a 1933 convention city in the same session. The meeting will be held in the Red Men hall after private business sessions in the morning.

The Red Men will install the following officers: Avery A. Snyder of Upper Sandusky great sachem, A. J Denning of Sekitan great prophet, M V Clevinger of Columbus great junior sagamore, Fred B Leslie of Toledo great senior sagamore.

The Pocahontas order will install the following chiefs: Mary Dey of Cleveland great Pocahontas, Clara Cunliffe of Murray City great Wenonah, Nellie Mae Curtis great Minnehaha, Helen A Huber of Cleveland great prophetess.

The Red Men trace the history of their order to the patriotic organizations known as the Tammany society, Sons of Liberty and the Order of Red Men all of which existed prior to the birth of the republic. As early as 1765 they were a factor in the events leading up to the declaration of independence and the formation of the United States. Their motto was freedom.

In September 1885 at a great council session in Elmira, N Y legislation was adopted permitting the organization of an auxiliary degree of Pocahontas.

Republicans Will Steal the Democrats' Thunder with Wet Plank, Will Believes

BY WILL ROGERS

WELL all I know is just what I read in the papers and what I run onto out here in the hills by Santa Monica Been having quite a few interesting callers lately starting couple of weeks back One morning some of the members of the Japanese Olympic Horsemen rode over to our place which is only one mile from the Riviera Club where all the horsemanship things will be held Course a Japanese on a horse was always a kind of funny sight for they are not a horseman nation and they will always get the biggest horses they can find in Manchuria they wont ride the little Manchurian ponies they want big old tall horses They think it makes em look bigger when as a matter of fact they look littler but this bunch is liable to fool all these other Nations

They got eleven head of mighty fine looking horses And they are mighty thorough learning anything so they may have got all these stunts worked out that the horses are to do and have em down pat

Spain is coming with some horses Poland Holland and a bunch of other countries I dont see why Mexico dont come They got some mighty fine horsemen and some good horses Course sending horses to one of these things runs into dough Its not like sending a footracer who can run over and then if he dont win anything walk back

Need an Elevator

Well the little Japanese gentlemen were very nice and cordial and outside of having a hard time getting up on top of those big horses they were O K You know I believe that the horse end of the Olympics will outdraw anything else Our American team was up here to our polo field not long ago and they brought their horses and put on an exhibition We got some great horses and great riders

Major Chamberlain is one of the best horsemen in this or any other depressed country Well the Japanese had no more than rode away till here come Tom Mix not on Tony but in a nice new car with his new wife Mabel Ward that is a wonderful aerial circus artist and a very very charming and pretty little lady And they had Toms little daughter Tomisina about eight or nine years old Tom and I mulled over old days in the Wild West Show business He is looking fine fully recovered from his illness

And then comes my old friend W G McAdoo I hadent seen W G in some time and of course we had a lot of politics to mull over W G is going to run for Senator out here and looks like he ought to get it if everybody are as democratic as they say they are He had just come from Washington He thinks the way those other fellows will kill each other off that Garner has a fine chance to be nominated He dont think the Al Smith Roosevelt thing will be patched up so that will mean a tough fight for either of them No one knows who Al will switch his strength too if he cant get it himself He says that the state of New York has only gone democratic once in 40 years (the year Cleveland run) and that there has been several New York men nominated in that time and they couldent carry it so a man from any part of the country has as much chance as any one else

Wilson Saw Outcome

You know they always preach that a man must be able to carry New York in order to give the Democrats a chance But Lord who knows what a voter will do when Texas went Republican W G is a mighty pleasant well informed man a very charming fellow He told me some interesting things about Mr Wilson and prohibition He said that Mr Wilson always could see that just such a predicament as we are now in would be possible and he wanted more laxity in the framing of any prohibition legislation He had always been a local optionist But you get him to write and tell you all that Mr Wilson told him on it Its very interesting and showed that this man Wilson had some vision

W G thinks that the Republicans will put a referendum in their platform Then there will be some fun with the Democrats The Republicans always get the first shot at what to do but the Democrats get the last shot at it If they, (the Republicans) put the plank in first that will steal the Democrats thunder

But it wont be long now for here the Conventions are right on us Mr McAdoo has his own plane and flies back and forth across the continent with his pilot all the time As he drove out Irene Rich and her daughters drove in We had finished a picture lately, Irene and I She is one that dont try to always stay 18 and claiming the daughters are "Adopted" One finished Smith College a year ago, and Irene gets up and announces it to the world

Then Miss Winona Winters, a vaudeville and musical comedy friend of Mrs. Rogers and I, from back in the good old days, B. C. before inflation. Remember how pretty she was and used to do a ventriloquial act along with her songs. She is the daughter of Banks Winter, (White Wings) a fine old Southern Gentleman. He is out here hale and hearty and lives with Winona, who is married and doing fine.

[illegible]

in the world No matter what you weigh the little fellow is your equal on a horse Tex Austin son of the big rodeo promoter Dick Waring from San Angelo and Tommy Thompson from New York had a mighty fine kid team coached by Col Keyes who developed at that same school the famous Arizona team which is the best college team in America (qualify mounted) Maybe we will know by the time this reaches you if Congress is going to help any one out I mean anyone that really needs it they have helped everybody else

CONGRESS IN its talking, planning, voting, taxing and appropriating worries big business and big business has been saying earnestly to Congress Wont you please go home and congress has been saying No I wont

But the veterans are in Washington disturbing congress as much as congress was disturbing the financial bigwigs And now you hear that congress will bring down the gavel for the last time this session at the end of next week and go away not to give high finance the respite that it wants but to escape the veterans

Thus high finance is made doubly happy Congress wont be there to do any more appropriating or taxing and it wont be there to give the veterans their bonus money

MARION CHILDREN WILL HOLD SPOTLIGHT IN CHURCHES

PLAN PROGRAM FOR SUNDAY

Number of Congregations Arrange Services To Include Young People

WILL HOLD BAPTISMAL

Rev. Patow Will Use Water Taken from River Jordan in Ceremony

Children will have their day Sunday when annual children's programs will be given in many of Marion's protestant churches.

Recitations, songs, dialogues and exercises will furnish most of the programs which will be given before general assemblies of the Sunday schools and at the worship hour at night. Promotion of children will be made in several of the schools.

Epworth M. E., the First Presbyterian and the Prospect Street M. E. churches will devote the morning worship service hours to the programs. Rev. Karl W. Patow of the Prospect street church will officiate at the service of infant baptism following an opening prayer and [illegible] at 9:30 a. m. The water used for the service is some that Rev. Patow dipped from the Jordan river on his trip to the Holy land two years ago.

Part two of the program will be given by the beginners department in charge of Mrs. Harry Wilhelm. Miss Clara Treft is in charge of the primary department which will furnish the third part of the program. Following part four of the program given by the junior department in charge of Mrs. Karl W. Patow, Rev. Patow will deliver a sermonette. There will be no 10:30 service Sunday.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Sunday school at the First Presbyterian church will open at 9:30 a. m. with a general assembly service featuring the children's exercises at 10 a. m. in place of the morning worship service. "Suffer little children to come unto me" will be the theme of the program which will open with an orchestra prelude and a hymn, "There's a Friend for Little Children," sung by the congregation. Miss Clara Leffler will direct the orchestra. Following prayer by the pastor, Rev. Howard L. Olewiler, the beginners department will present a program directed by Miss Emma Thompson, superintendent. The program will consist of three songs, "Good Morning," "Two Little Hands" and "Our Fathers and Mothers," and a vocal solo by Phyllis Ann Thomas.

Mrs. V. H. Barnhill, assistant superintendent of the primary department, will direct its part in the program which will be a play, "At the End of the Rainbow." The cast follows: Donald Phillips and Mary J. Hamilton, Ralph and Harriet of a large Sunday school; Carolyn King, Rita of Porto Rico; Barbara Gottschall, Melba of the Southern Mountains; Virginia Mathiot, "Mathile of Alabama"; Norman Mortley, Henry of Montana; Billy Yambert, Jack of Oregon; James Griselinger Jr., Manuel, a Mexican boy; Joan Olewiler, Helen, a mulatto child; Lucille Dolly, Lale, an Alaskan girl; James Rhodes, George, a Negro boy; Morgan Barnhill, Charles, an Oregon boy. Happy songs and a verse by the department will conclude the first part of the program.

An offering for the mission school in Idaho will be taken during the intermission. "God's Summer World" will be the theme of the junior department program directed by Mrs. C. E. Fitel, assistant superintendent. Ruth Robinson and Betty Felty will give readings. Responsive readings will be given by Mrs. Fitel and the department members. A hymn by the congregation, "Stand Up, Stand Up for Jesus," and benediction by the pastor will conclude the program.

Dead Branches

A SERMONETTE

BY DWIGHT H. FERGUSON,

Lay Evangelist, Conducting Meetings at Rear of 107 West Center street

If a man abide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and is withered; and men gather them and cast them into the fire, and they are burned.—St. John 15:6

The teachings of Christ though most profound invariably were transported upon humble and familiar and comprehensible vehicles of illustration.

This strong message is simply presented, yet there is a deep reality in the relationship which is held by a branch to the vine. The wonderful intimate life carried on by the vine to the branch is intricate, powerful and miraculous. However, the stern fact remains that in order to continue connected to the parent vine it will be necessary to bear fruit. Botanical science may be capable of giving limited information regarding the culture for agricultural improvement, but the surety of truth and divine verities will not permit a fruitless branch to remain.

We admit Christ as the true vine will be the progenitor of all spiritual life. The lesson deals with those branches which do not maintain a continuous influx of life-giving vitality sufficient to bear the necessary fruit. Fruitless branches on grape vines are liabilities and liable to destruction, so dead Christians are certain to come to a bitter awakening.

The tragedy falls when we realize that the branch is most surely a production of the vine as was clearly intimated by Jesus. However, the dead branch may be 1. "CUT OFF." This illuminates the right and title of affiliation to Jesus Christ. The hollow sham of professionalism will not stand the acid test of the pure Gospel. 2—"WITHERED." The life influences of Grace and mercy gone, no attraction toward spiritual life or work. You are cold, lifeless, juiceless, useless and fireless. WHY? WITHERED. 3—"GATHERED." Which means that you are a backslider classified with the workers of iniquity. 4. "CAST INTO THE FIRE." Once God's child, now separated from Him, separated from God's children, separated from your only hope of salvation, Jesus Christ, and separated from all life giving power. 5—"BURNED." Fire made for the devil and his angels becomes your portion.

Read the fifteenth chapter of St. John and take inventory of your present condition.

Business was humming today at Lautenslager Oldsmobile, Inc., at 203 South Main street. Today was the opening of a big June used car sale, the first event of its kind to be sponsored by this newest of Marion automobile agencies.

Every car on the floor had been placed in the pink of salable condition before the opening of business today, H. C. Lautenslager, president and general manager of the company, stated.

Cars offered in the sale are those taken in trade on deals for new Oldsmobiles sold since the opening of the business Jan. 20. Mr. Laustenslager stated that increased demand in response to the exceptional low prices and easy payment arrangements in effect for the sale should result in a complete turning of the used car stock of 18 automobiles.

As the name of the business indicates, the Lautenslager concern holds the franchises for retail distribution in the Marion territory of Oldsmobile Sixes and Eights. Twenty-three new cars have been sold since January and this fact is considered a fine public acceptance of the new business and is consistent with sales record that Oldsmobile is enjoying throughout the country.

Makers Statement

The Olds Motor Works of Lansing, Mich., a subsidiary of the General Motors corporation and manufacturers of Oldsmobile, says of the cars as follows:

"Oldsmobile dual offering for 1932 . . . a larger, finer, faster Six . . . and a brilliant new straight Eight . . . make available two moderately priced automobiles in which advanced engineering and high quality materials and of workmanship are combined to achieve the greatest values ever presented by America's oldest automobile manufacturer.

"Every quality characteristic of Oldsmobile has been notably emphasized and improved. Most obvious perhaps, is the greater beauty in Oldsmobile's new streamline styling which accords so gracefully with the increased length of the new cars. Their added comfort, due among other reasons to larger roomier, bodies is equally apparent. And as to their performance, the mere act of sitting in the driver's seat at once gives the impression that these cars are extraordinarily responsive and capable.

"To test . . . and prove . . . the accuracy of this impression you need only spend a few minutes with a new Oldsmobile out on the highway. It is a genuine pleasure to put it through its paces . . . to enjoy the thrill of its spirited performance . . . to have first hand knowledge of a car that is modern in every detail."

Associated with Mr. Lautenslager in the sales department of his company are E. L. Crane, H. J. Loudenslager, Thomas Mayes, and Charles W. Sidenstricker as salesmen and Glenn Uline as office manager. All members of the staff are experienced Oldsmobile men as well as Mr. Lautenslager, who, as the district representative in the distribution of Oldsmobiles to dealers was connected with the Moyer Oldsmobile Co. of Columbus for several years and in this capacity established a wide acquaintance throughout this section of the state to whom he is almost universally known as "Heine."

The Lautenslager agency cordially invites anyone interested in the new Oldsmobile models to inspect the cars at the salesroom or at their home, enjoy a ride in them, study them completely without obligation. Any member of the sales staff will be glad to demonstrate and explain the cars in detail at any time, Mr. Lautenslager states.

The striking beauty and convincing tone of Oldsmobile national advertising, known to the readers of magazines and newspapers everywhere, has familiarized for all, the Oldsmobile pledge "TO DESIGN PROGRESSIVELY . . . TO BUILD FAITHFULLY . . . TO SELL HONESTLY . . . TO SERVICE SINCERELY."

The first two items are in the hands of the manufacturer entirely and their fulfillment is established with the long record of successes that belongs to the Olds Motor Works. The final two however, are in the hands of the retail dealer for the car, Mr. Lautenslager and his sales force are having no difficulty in ethical disposal of their cars for as they point out, there is not a single feature of the Oldsmobile but what is more than capable of its own particular task and all have brought together in a triumph of fine car building.

The fourth point of the pledge "TO SERVICE SINCERELY" is one receiving exacting attention at the South Main street concern. In charge of the factory supervised service department is Chester A. Corbin as service manager and in this department as mechanics are C. A. Koons, Art Ulery and Frank Kneisley and Thomas Harris as washer. Since opening the garage, the service department and staff have been enlarged on three occasions. Mr. Lautenslager is proud of his service department and justly so, for it has enjoyed a constantly increasing business, with already hundreds of satisfied customers giving it their support. Not only Oldsmobile but all types of cars are serviced here. A wreck service is available and the complete tooling of the shop enables the company to recondition, insofar as mechanical details are concerned all of its used cars before they are placed on the sales floor. Generous floor space at the agency's location permits the acceptance of a number of cars in storage and many car owners in the vicinity take advantage of this convenience, storing their cars and having them serviced under the same roof.

Reward or Relief?

It may be asked: What is the army of unemployed veterans in Washington seeking? Is it payment of the bonus for the services of its members and others who did not join the march to Washington? Or is it relief for unemployed men who once served in the army?

The question may be put another way. Is the insistent demand upon congress for the wholesale distribution of cash made by the whole group of World war veterans or is it made by unemployed men who happen to be veterans? The wavering needle of truth swings toward the latter answer.

Agitation for payment of the bonus is in reality agitation for government aid to unemployed men. However, since it is being carried on by a more or less well organized veteran minority which seeks to intimidate congress by its bodily presence, it plainly classes itself as a drive for class legislation. Opposition in objection to the dangerous aspect of the situation is justified. Veterans should be shown why the thing they ask is impossible and their further demands met with a flat refusal.

The larger issue involved is one of paternalism. The United States will spend for veterans relief the next fiscal year more than one fourth of its total expenditures for all purposes—more than the combined total of the other chief belligerents of the World war, though the United States had fewer men mobilized and emerged with a comparatively small number of dead and wounded. While other belligerents have granted no general bonus and are decreasing their annual expenditures, the United States has literally gone the limit in generosity, undertaking obligations whose dangerous proportions have been generally realized only recently.

Expenditures have outgrown the limits of traditional consideration for former soldiers. They have entered the realm of general relief for that considerable portion of the national population which voluntarily or involuntarily entered military service during the World war and now constitutes a sizable portion of the national unemployment total. Veterans relief has been used as a lever to commit the United States to a policy of paternalism in favor of needy war veterans, to the exclusion of other deserving Americans. Wholesale distribution of cash as is asked for in demands for immediate payment of the bonus would represent social injustice. There are millions with no army record who need money too. Lacking the power to organize and exert political pressure they can not get it. Veterans have fostered, unintentionally for the most part, an ingrowing system of distribution of the people's money which unchecked will cost Americans close to three billion dollars a year in the near future.

The fact is with us, in grim and ominous presence. The correction, sad to say, is an intangible hope lying in the unpredictable flux of policy to be determined by legislators of the future, who unless they take their places equipped with more of that fine perception of balance upon which enduring governments are erected than their predecessors have displayed, will be willing to let the fact remain a jagged reef upon which the ship of state will drive headlong and helpless, with disastrous effects.

The few professional reformers who not so many years ago were the only ones telling what was wrong with the country and how to remedy conditions now find they have about 100,000,000 competitors.

A Perfect Alibi

The American system of protection against criminals never comes closer to appearing grotesque than when a wanted criminal cheerfully walks into the prosecuting attorney's office to give himself up. Not that the hounds of the law are snapping at his heels—nothing so melodramatic as that. He merely has had time to polish up a perfect alibi and is ready to wipe the slate clean and start over.

Harry Fleischer, wanted badly when investigators were chasing their tails on the trail of the kidnapers of the Lindbergh baby, walked into the Wayne county prosecutor's office in Detroit, Michigan, Wednesday. He announced that he was ready to set all the state's lawyers and all the state's men by the ears, if they still were interested in what he has been doing since they started to look for him last September.

He can prove he was nowhere near the Lindbergh estate at the time of the kidnaping, he claims. His lawyers are ready to take all comers in a contest on that point. And as for another case of local fame, in which Fleischer is suspected of having had something to do with the death of three competitors in the alcohol business, he wouldn't think of doing such a thing. His lawyers are ready to back him up there, too. In other words there are a few matters to be straightened out and Gangster Fleischer hopes the state's attorney will appreciate his cooperation. He has been in Detroit for quite a few days, unmolested. The whole thing was in his hands. Even the moving pictures haven't dared to tell people that hoodlums are so sure of themselves that they walk boldly up to justice and demand a clean bill of health.

All on the Same Foundation

Up at Brush [illegible] there is now in session a three day convention of [illegible] people that is [illegible] worthy [illegible] than one.

The meeting marks the [illegible] hundred [illegible] anniversary of the [illegible] of [illegible] which [illegible] organization [illegible] holding. From the doctrines and customs of the pioneers who established the denomination, not the slightest change has been made in the form of worship or ceremonies in all of the years that have elapsed since the first group met in the far distant past.

That is unusual in this country of frequent changes in habits, practices and beliefs. It may truthfully be said that the people affiliated with this denomination are faithful and admirable exponents of steadfastness and faith, qualities that many persons lack. In [illegible] life outside the church they have [illegible] with their neighbors in accepting and putting to use all of the devices for human convenience and [illegible] made possible through invention and research. But in their places of worship they believe that the things long established are right and should not be subject to alteration.

Whether they have the correct viewpoint is just one of the controversial questions that have resulted in the many divisions of religious belief and doctrine. The fact remains that this and other organizations of its kind are working toward a common goal and regardless of their differences of opinion on forms of worship great good is being accomplished by all.

Fortunately this is a country in which absolute freedom is given every citizen to worship God as he sees fit and according to his belief. Whether the ideas employed are old or new, as long as man benefits through uplift and enlightenment the organizations engaged in this greatest of all undertakings are certain to be encouraged, praised and protected.

The Primitive Baptists prefer to continue in worship as did their forefathers and they are doing so because of the firm conviction that this is the right course to follow. Those of other denominations hold to their faith and viewpoints with equal devotion and belief. But the dividing lines are dim as all of these groups move forward in the one great work for the betterment of mankind.

An offer of free marriage licenses at Greenville, Ky., brought 19 couples as applicants in one day. Now if grocers and landlords would be as generous as the license bureau the matrimonial road would be almost clear of obstacles.

A Constructive Alternative.

The demand of prohibitionists that their opponents offer a constructive alternative before proceeding further with agitation for repeal of the 18th amendment received two important answers recently. One was given in the Rockefeller letter. The other was given in Walter Lippmann's valuable column the day following the letter's publication.

Mr. Rockefeller confessed his inability to see that repeal and a constructive alternative could be considered as complementary parts of the same problem. Repeal first, he advised, and select the alternative afterwards. Otherwise a stalemate will be the result.

Mr. Lippmann rejoined that repeal by delivering the responsibility for regulation to the states automatically would provide the constructive alternative. Repeal, he claimed, would provide powers to regulate liquor which do not exist today.

"Not only would it leave intact all the constitutional and statutory prohibition in the states, not only would it leave intact the federal power to protect dry states, but it would revive all the temperance legislation which the 18th amendment has suppressed and would for the first time in over 10 years empower the people of the thickly settled regions to protect themselves against the most gigantic industry ever known in the underworld," he argued.

This type of argument is a needed reminder of the fact too frequently forgotten that 30 states had adopted prohibition amendments to their state constitution before the 18th amendment became effective in 1920 and that 13 others had become dry through statutory enactments. Two of these states, Montana and Nevada, since have repealed their state enforcement acts. The remainder would constitute dry territory if the amendment were repealed.

In the opinion of anti-prohibitionists, drys, by demanding a constructive alternative for the 18th amendment weaken their case by calling for something to bring about a condition which does not now exist. Wets may be expected to argue with increasing vehemence and conviction as Mr. Lippmann already has that the constructive alternative would be created automatically by returning the problem to the states which, protected by the Webb-Kenyon law compelling the federal government to prohibit shipments of liquor into a state if such shipments of liquor violates the law, would better be able to do everything that federal enforcement aims at today.

The prohibition issue is coming to be argued more and more on a basis of fact rather than prejudice. Clarity of thinking in both camps will be aided by an attempt to understand exactly what repeal of the 18th amendment would mean in terms of responsibility for control of the liquor traffic.

Guard Against Stomach Trouble.

There is a group of stomach disturbances that are decidedly uncomfortable and gastritis, meaning inflammation of the walls of the stomach, is the term used to designate these conditions, which are often confused with heartburn, indigestion, hyperacidity and other gastric disturbances.

Acute gastritis is a sudden inflammation of the lining of the stomach caused by chemical or mechanical irritation. It may be produced by swallowing rough and uncooked foods, by faulty mastication or by excessive use of alcohol. It is frequently encountered in such disorders as influenza, pneumonia, measles and scarlet fever. In these cases the irritation is produced by the toxins or poisons found in these diseases.

As a rule acute gastritis readily responds to treatment, but unfortunately chronic gastritis is of a more serious nature and requires careful and prolonged treatment. The chronic form may be the result of continued wrong habits of eating. Improper chewing of food, hasty eating, excessive use of condiments, fried and greasy foods or alcohol over a long period of time may produce chronic gastritis.

The condition may be the result of a severe heart, lung or liver disorder or it may be caused by an infection somewhere in the body, as in the tonsils, throat, nasal sinuses, gall bladder or appendix, from which it is believed infection is carried to the stomach by the blood stream or it may be swallowed with the food.

In chronic gastritis inflammation of the mucous membrane or lining of the stomach causes increased secretion of mucus which aids in protecting the inflamed membrane. If the inflammation continues there is a decrease of hydrochloric acid and pepsin in the stomach—substances essential for proper gastric digestion, and faulty intestinal digestion and many severe ailments follow.

If you suffer from digestive disturbances consult your physician and by complete physical examination let him determine whether you have gastritis, either acute or chronic. Special laboratory examinations of the contents of the stomach may be necessary or an X-ray picture of the stomach and intestines.

Diet is important in treating gastritis. Foods that are rich in fat, fried or greasy, should be avoided, and butter used only in small amounts. Any food known to cause digestive disturbances should be shunned. Water should be consumed at each meal and at least six to eight glasses of water daily between meals.

Avoid excessive eating. It is best to eat frequently rather than to overeat at one meal. Food should be slowly and thoroughly chewed.

Highlights of Ohio History

BY J. H. GALBRAITH

ON THE TRAIL OF WAYNE

Somewhere along the trail taken by General Wayne through Van Wert county on his way to meet and defeat the Indians in 1794 there lies buried a [illegible] relic of that campaign. It is said that while covering that portion of the march some of the [illegible] used to draw the small cannon of the expedition died and this compelled the abandonment of the cannon. And in order that it might not be found and used by the enemy he caused it to be [illegible] in the ground, though it is not apparent what use the Indians could have made of it not having necessary ammunition.

Some years ago some boys while fishing along the [illegible] Auglaize river found a number of cannon balls much rusted [illegible] heaped in the usual [illegible]. Wayne's trail on this occasion [illegible] the Little Auglaize at this point and these are supposed to be part of the ammunition he carried that was abandoned as a [illegible] of the burying of the cannon.

Many years before this, while an excavation was being made in the city of Van Wert near the present city library, a heap of rifle bullets was uncovered which attracted much attention because it was found the bullets were made of a mixture of some metal with lead that gave it such hardness that the bullets were not usable in rifled guns, the metal in them clogging up the rifles in the bore.

It is believed that this ammunition was lost in some way by Wayne's army en route. The scarcity of lead when the campaign was being [illegible] may have led to the use of some other metal at hand to make bullets in the emergency. The early settlers in Van Wert county could still make out and follow the Wayne trail and it is said to have [illegible] of the [illegible] city of Van Wert.

New York Day by Day

BY O. O. McINTYRE

[illegible]

As I was saying it was a midnight repast, a buffet. Stuffed tomatoes, pork and beans, scalloped potatoes, imported sardines—but do you mind if I talk of something else? I see by the papers there is a place in San Salvador where one can live for 10 cents a day. That's no good. Forget I said that. I'm only trying to keep my mind off food. The way I feel about food now they'll have to feed me a spoonful every fourth [illegible] through a quill.

I think I told you I ate at the midnight supper. I got faint and everything began to swim. What I'd give to stretch out on the sofa close my eyes and have [illegible] play something. Has anyone a deck of cards? I'd divert my mind with solitaire. Never mind, I don't hunt for one. I couldn't keep track and I'd know it, I'd be cheating.

As I told you, I stayed up until [illegible] without eating a bite. L[illegible] to stews, sang sour songs and told stories. Every time I'd start to go the host would take me in the [illegible] to inquire: "What's eating you? Throw you a swell party and what you do but run out like a dog. That's what you do. You [illegible] sumpin'? People talking about it. Know what they say? Say you're a hermit. Poor ole Odd. Just a home body. Fireside [illegible]." Then he'd break down sob[illegible]. I'd have to go back.

Anyway I got home at 4:30, [illegible] Nothing to eat [illegible] dinner and sitting around [illegible] gluttons. So I detoured to the ice box, dreaming of a cold [illegible], a bowl of chilled macaroni or perhaps a left over ham hock. (I'm thinking up titles?) And what do you suppose I found—surprise, surprise. Well, suckers, a huge bowl of cold beef stew with a jelly layer. You've seen a hungry hound wolf eat his supper after a hunt. That was the picture with a real life hero. The way I lit into it up was nobody's business.

And I felt dandy this morning, too. No fuzzy tongue or anything. That is until I sat at the typewriter. From the pantry I heard my wife say to the cook: "What became of the beef stew I mixed up with the sulphur and medicine for biscuits for the dogs last night? I put it here and it's gone." A Washington Daybook

BY HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington, June 11 — Senator George of Georgia is perhaps one of the most zealous guardians of the traditions and time-honored customs of the United States senate.

He was on the supreme bench of his state before coming to the senate some nine years ago. Habits acquired there in the dignified surroundings peculiar to the judiciary atmosphere were easily retained when he became a senator.

It is not surprising, therefore, that he should become indignant when a newcomer such as Senator Huey Long of Louisiana attempts to take him and other senators to task.

The vitality, vigor and breeziness of Senator Huey, as one senator expresses it, has been getting on the nerves of some of his colleagues a great deal of late—especially while the senate was embarked on the task of trying to balance the budget by passing an adequate revenue bill.

In spite his newness as a senator Long projected himself into the tax debate at every opportunity and probably had as much to say on the floor in debates as any one.

Long hasn't been particularly concerned as to whose toes he has tread upon in his loquacity, either. That is what riled the sedate, serious senator from Georgia.

It was getting around 10 o'clock in a particularly trying night session of the senate when George became really aroused at Long tactics. The Louisiana senator had just read into the Record some of George's votes in the past on tariff schedules.

Stern, his pronounced southern accent almost lost in his indignation, he proceeded to denounce the Louisianan in a way seldom heard on the floor of the senate.

He chided him for what he termed his audacity in attempting to "lecture" senators and advised him to wait until he had been in the senate long enough to respect the convictions of his colleagues. He deplored the senator's lack of courtesy—"I was about to say decency."

"He is utterly lacking in the sensibilities which usually characterize the intercourse between men in this body," George shouted in conclusion.

But it didn't seem to faze the senator from Louisiana much. He heard it all and when George concluded he naively asked him what he had said that was objectionable.

George in futile fashion replied if the senator was "unconscious of what he had done, that was enough."

Conventions

THERE'S something thrilling about being host to a convention and when they come two in a [illegible] [illegible] that is something to [illegible] [illegible]. Flags flying, welcome signs all over the place and the [illegible] [illegible] King Bee an old-time [illegible] [illegible] Thursday gives one the [illegible] of wanting to make the [illegible] for just most anything. [illegible] [illegible] one and all are merry and [illegible] anybody and everyone that attends [illegible] [illegible] to decide that what [illegible] has happened and whatever [illegible] going to happen is just beside [illegible] and a thing [illegible] matters [illegible] [illegible] and its attend[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] in [illegible] the latter. Frequently [illegible] blossom out as a [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] nice or otherwise and [illegible] [illegible] in the parlance of the times for [illegible] and days. We aren't particularly fond of the word potlikker but we had no knowledge of what it really meant. In fact we never heard it used except to hurl in derision at some one. Here's what one authority says it is: Put in an iron pot turnip or mustard greens, a turnip or two and a piece of salt pork about the size of a baseball. Then add a quart of water and boil the mixture three quarters of an hour. Then serve in a soup plate. So there.

RATTLER BATTLES

By United Press

MADERA, Calif.—A fight between rowers and a swimming rattlesnake was described here by [illegible] [illegible] Palmer. Palmer said the boating party, composed of himself and two friends, encountered the snake on Don Pedro lake. The reptile coiled on the surface of the water, Palmer said, and charged the boat several times but was driven off.

ASK DAD

Just ask dad to stay at home one day and do the family wash.

Dad won't do it. He'll say there ought not to be a wash day at all—that the home isn't the place to do the wash.

Dad will say send all the wash to the laundry.

And Dad will be right.

All things considered it costs less to have us do the washing than to do it at home.

The following is an average family washing of 13 pounds: 2 sheets, [illegible] lunch cloths, [illegible] pillow slips, 4 bath towels, 4 wash cloths, 4 dish towels, 12 handkerchiefs, 3 shirts, 2 pr. pajamas, [illegible] slips, 2 step ins, 4 sox, 2 shirts and shorts, 2 dresses.

All flat pieces ironed, shirts, dresses, etc., starched and dried ready to iron.

[illegible] the gentleman who has [illegible] Miss Went[illegible] asked Ashwood carelessly [illegible] Lucci "I had to [illegible] down this afternoon I [illegible] a mind to get rid of him now [illegible] so I can't stand him [illegible] guzzling likker all the [illegible] sneaking up on Nancy [illegible] my back is turned [illegible] a hiss of indrawn [illegible] from the intent watchers [illegible] casting all restraint [illegible] Like the athlete [illegible] he dashed like a [illegible] across the floor his [illegible] to punch or to parry [illegible] a head shorter twenty [illegible] smiled grimly as though [illegible] this sudden reversion [illegible] physical action Victor in [illegible] barroom brawl he had [illegible] as to fair or foul play [illegible] all was to fight to win [illegible] instinctively for his [illegible] his hand away [illegible] as light he pivoted [illegible] left foot swayed his body [illegible] from the onrushing Mal[illegible] launched a sidelong kick [illegible] as swift and as deadly [illegible] of an enraged cobra [illegible] an almost superhu[illegible] twisted his body and [illegible] terrific blow on the hip

He crashed into One-shot and the two fell to the floor Mallory on top His face convulsed with hate he clutched two handfuls of his enemy's sleek black hair and butted Lucci's head again and again against the floor

Nancy Wentworth standing rigid with horror gazed wild eyed at the frenzied pair The dull thumping as the dark head rose and fell seemed to echo against her own body yet she could neither move nor cry out She heard Mallory grunting beast like as his arms and body rose and fell rose and fell hammering Lucci's head against the floor

At last she looked away her eyes darting around the room Why did no one move to stop those fiends? She saw Williams rise from his chair as though to interfere then relax again as he glanced at an automatic in the slender hands of the white haired cripple The latter then laid his gun on his thin knees and watched the struggle with undisguised pleasure

In the frenzy of despair Lucci struggled convulsively Mallory slipped from his seat on the gangster's body Lucci writhed like a snake Then suddenly he rolled over on his stomach pushed himself to his hands and knees and threw himself backward with a bucking motion The two toppled over sprawled full lengths on their backs

Now Lucci was uppermost Mallory rolled over and tried to push himself to his hands and knees Perched on the other's back Lucci reached two clawing hands beneath the other's face and searched with clawing finger nails for Mallory's eyes

They were down again rolling over and over For a brief instant they had broken away and crouched there facing each other with expressions that Nancy had never dreamed the human countenance could assume Half a dozen deep gashes marked the progress of Lucci's fingernails from Mallory's forehead to chin

With a leap so swift it could scarce be followed by the eye Lucci hurled himself at Mallory at the same time bringing his right fist up from the floor in a tremendous sweeping arc It struck the other's chin with a thud that echoed across the room The stockbroker plunged to the floor as though he had been hit by a sledgehammer There was a long hissing sigh from the spectators who thought the fight had ended But the prone man rolled over The gangster reached for the other's throat but with a pick upward jerk of his leg Mallory kneed Lucci in the groin Lucci's sob was like that of a wounded animal

Nancy knew that this was a battle to the death Mallory the suave polished gentleman of Wall street and the country clubs was now an abysmal animal gouging and maiming fighting to kill or be killed It was incredible It happened to other people somewhere in far-off worlds She would wake up in a moment pull the blankets over her head and lie trembling trying to banish the nightmare from her brain Yet her wide brown eyes missed no detail of the struggle She was shocked to realize that she was losing all feeling of horror Her pulses were hammering with excitement

Lucci, again on his back writhing in agony was trying to push Mallory away The other shaking his head to clear his eyes of blood was beating down with both fists on the gangster's upturned face There was a sudden flurry of arms and legs a quick change of posture Lucci was free again He struggled to his hands and knees then to his feet where he swayed gently, steadying himself by sheer force of will He spat teeth and blood to the polished hardwood floor He lunged forward and seized Mallory in a clinch his left arm encircling his opponent's neck

Mallory screamed and threw himself away One shot followed jabbing rigid prong like fingers at his eyes The other off balance to avoid the spearing fingers tottered backwards and Lucci leaped for his unguarded throat obeyed her so literally that I must have dropped into exhausted sleep almost as soon as my head fitted into the pillow

But I must have been subconsciously watchful for a light tap on the door wakened me and the low but excited voice of Lucky the most trusted helper of the mistress of Watkins Hall brought me to a sitting posture

"There's something in the kitchen Will you come?" she said

"A strange delivery man Lucy?" her mistress queried "If so this gentleman——"

"No Mrs Barnes no stranger" the girl answered quickly "But they've just found a note pinned to the paper around——"

"Just a second" my father interrupted authoritatively "Will you please have that entire basket or box of foodstuff or whatever it is brought to me here together with the person who discovered it"

"Rose found it" we heard Lucy saying as without further comment Mrs Barnes hurried out of the room with her

When Rose wide eyed and trembling came into the room a few minutes later Mrs Barnes appealed quickly to my father

Rose Will Tell Her Story

"Rose fears that because she found the note and brought me the story from her neighbor last night you may think she knows something she shouldn't about this affair" she said "I have told her that you will understand and that I will vouch for her I have known her since she was a little girl"

My father had been scrutinizing the girl keenly since her entrance, and I knew that he was not depending absolutely upon Mrs Barnes' tribute But when he smiled at the girl I knew that he believed in her

"Don't be afraid Rose" he said winningly "You're not suspected of anything Instead you may be the means of finding the girl Tell me all about this"

"If you prefer it to a couch certainly not" Dr Barnes answered with an absence of fussiness that I knew would meet with my father's utmost approval

"What about your daughter?" My father looked steadily at me and I suddenly understood one reason for his "forty winks"

"Please don't ask me to go away and lie down" I pleaded "I—I must be here"

"Why not lie down here?" Mrs Barnes who had come back into the room was at the wide couch as she spoke beating up one of the comfortable looking pillows "You'll be right at the core of things and if you should drop off to sleep, which I doubt, I will give you my personal and solemn promise to waken you if anything new develops"

"Or if Mrs Underwood should need me?" I stipulated.

"That also," she nodded. "Come, let me tuck you in."
